

ANDREW WISE

DIRECTOR, LIFE SCIENCE MEDICS

Andrew has been working as a recruitment professional for 25 years, the last 20 of which have been spent catering exclusively to the life science sector. While he has built teams and had overall accountability for a wide variety of functions, his main focus has remained on the recruitment of physicians.

Having been with Life Science Medics for over a year now Andrew's areas of interest have broadened from his historic focus in medical affairs to include clinical development and safety. He has a particular interest in vaccines, infectious diseases and anti infectives.

Andrew has supported a huge range of clients in the attraction of world class medical talent. From 1st person in region start-ups to top five pharma, the approach has always been to develop lasting relationships and deliver outstanding results. Andrew's approach is to ensure that he has a deep understanding of the core aspirations and ambitions of his customers in order that he can meet those needs.

With a candid and professional communication style it's important to him that everyone knows where they stand and feels heard and supported.

Having joined the team at Life Science Medics in January 2023, Andrew is enjoying the high water mark of a long career in physician recruitment. There's a genuine meeting of minds and attitudes in terms of focus, vision and values and it's incredibly exciting to be in a position to use the experience Andrew's built to elaborate on our offering.

WHAT MOTIVATES YOU?

The pride that comes from delivering the best service you can and helping my clients and candidates fulfil their potential. I want to make a positive difference to the world and I'm privileged to work in a career and industry sector that allows me to do that.

WHAT ARE YOU PASSIONATE ABOUT?

My family, who are my greatest blessing and joy and enjoying the beautiful world we live in, particularly the sea at Hastings. I've also got a soft spot for science fiction in all its forms.
