

PAM EVANS

DIRECTOR, LIFE SCIENCE MEDICS

Pam has a PhD in Medicine and, before transitioning to executive search, had more than 25 years of functional experience within the Biopharm industry working for several of the biggest companies in the world including Amgen, GSK and Roche.

She has an international network of leadership healthcare professionals and her in-depth knowledge of the industry enables her to provide genuine insight into a client's needs and to quickly reach highly qualified candidates. She is comfortable working across all functions with particular expertise and first-hand knowledge of Clinical Development, Strategic Project Management/Portfolio Management, Clinical Operations and Medical Affairs. Pam is also a trained career coach enabling in depth analyses and matching of a candidates' strengths and experience to the client's needs.

WHAT MOTIVATES YOU?

I am passionate about delivering accountable, high quality recruitment services to the industry. As a previous client and hiring manager myself I truly understand the importance and value of providing an open, prompt and consultative partnership to both client and candidate.

WHAT DO YOU VALUE?

Really understanding the unique cultural and experience requirements of our clients and matching these to the experience, values and motivations of our candidates.

WHAT ARE YOU PASSIONATE ABOUT?

Exploring new places and culinary experiences with family and friends, finding inspiration in nature and walking my dogs in the beautiful West Sussex countryside. I'm also endlessly enthusiastic about learning, love finding the charm in the ordinary and living each day with gratitude and kindness.
